

ANALYST: FRANK CURZIO

← PUBLICATIONS →

small stock specialist

an investment advisory which focuses on undervalued growth stocks with small market caps.

<http://bit.ly/curziosmallstock>

phase 1 investor

Stansberry's exclusive newsletter which takes a "venture capital" approach to investing.

<http://bit.ly/curziophase1>

Frank Curzio, Jr. is the editor of Small Stock Specialist and Phase 1 Investor.

Prior to joining Stansberry & Associates in 2009, Frank worked for one of the richest hedge-fund managers on Wall Street, where his job was to analyze stocks in the "under $10" sector. He also wrote a "stocks-under-$10" newsletter for The Street.

Frank has an incredible investment background, having been around Wall Street, investing, and the advisory business almost his entire life. His late father, Frank Curzio, Sr., was famous for calling the 1987 stock market crash, was a six-time winner of the Wall Street Journal's Dartboard contest, and wrote an advisory letter that was ranked numerous times by Hulbert Financial Digest.

Small Stock Specialist was created specifically to capitalize on the lucrative secrets Frank has uncovered during his 15-plus years as a professional small-stock analyst, targeting gains of 25%-200% for every low-priced stock recommendation he makes. As a result, subscribers to this service have seen excellent gains in Westport (116%), Dyncorp (58%), and Dendreon (49%), among many others.

Frank is also the lead editor of our exclusive Phase 1 Investor advisory, which takes a "venture capital" approach to investing. Using his expertise in small-stock research, Frank looks for small-cap

- Frank's "S&A Investor Radio" is one of the most widely followed financial broadcast in the country.
- Frank is a frequent guest of Fox Business News, CNBC's The Kudlow Report and The Call, among others.
- Over the past 15 years, Frank's investment strategies – including value, growth, top-down, and technical analysis – have regularly produced 200%, 300%, and 500% winners for his subscribers.

STORY FOCUS

- Natural Gas or Eagle Diesel
- Small Cap Investing
- Small Cap Dividend Growers
- L&G infrastructure & shipping
- Oil & Gas Drilling / exploration
- Semi Conductors
- Recycling Stock/Sector
- Resource Sector
- Gold
- Technology / Bio Tech
- Diebold

speculative stocks with outstanding growth potential, focusing on natural resource stocks, and emerging technologies in the high-tech, life science, and biotechnology industries. After spending 15 years studying and networking with some of the smartest people on Wall Street, Frank has direct access to the best investors, financiers, bankers, and financial journalists as guests on his weekly radio program - (see on next page).

As a nationally recognized expert on small stock research, Frank's expertise and success have led to guest appearances on Fox Business News, CNBC's The Kudlow Report, and CNBC's The Call. He has also been mentioned numerous times on Jim Cramer's Mad Money, is a featured guest on CNN Radio, and has been quoted in many major financial publications.

The Street

Prior to joining stansberry & associates Frank was an editor for The Street where he wrote a popular column about stocks under $10. You can find those articles by visiting the link below.

<http://www.thestreet.com/author/1100717/FrankCurzio/all.html>

To help investors get their portfolios ready, CNBC asked Frank Curzio for his best stock picks on the CNBC Edge.

To watch the clip visit : <http://www.cnbc.com/id/25140582>

The Energy Report editor at Business Insider spoke to Frank to get his take on how penny stocks would be affected from higher oil and gas demand. Read the full article here : <http://www.bit.ly/frankcurzio>

Frank Curzio is one of America's most recognized experts in the small cap sector. As the voice behind S&A Investor Radio, it has become one of the most widely followed financial broadcasts in the country. Frank's guests include top fund managers, prolific financial writers, market strategists and today's top financial experts.

Visit <http://www.stansberryradio.com/Frank-Curzio/Latest-Episodes> for all of Frank's S&A Investor Radio episodes.

When Frank first joined S&A, one of our subscribers wrote,
"I can't believe that you snagged Frank Curzio for an S&A analyst. I can tell you the guy is one of the best. He knows small caps like nobody else. You have a winner in Frank Curzio. His advice has made me a lot of money."

press contact

Sara Wilson
swilson@stansberryresearch.com
(410) 864-1784